George Bradford : 1914-1938 Armored Fighting Vehicles (AFV Plans) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised 1914-1938 Armored Fighting Vehicles (AFV Plans):

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Excellent Product for the money By Reinaldo L. Andujar I have followed George Bradford's work since 1964 and he has always come up with an excellent product. These plans originated in a series, by country in 1/35 and 1/48 scale, of popular armored fighting vehicles (AFVs) that he sold on his web site. They complement the standard reference texts in the field that provide the technical and operational details of AFVs. Since the Bellona series stopped production years ago these are the best available resource for military modelers other than articles specifically written on a particular vehicle. What I found particularly useful is that he covers subjects that are obscure or have been overlooked in the normal study of AFVs. This opinion applies to the entire series that has been published. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. This book is what it is. For the serious ... By Michael Lee Pemberton This book is what it is. For the serious student of Armored Fighting Vehicles, it is not. Exterior graphical representations to scale for modelers, it is. It could be an expensive coloring book. There are no interior depictions or technical data on the vehicles displayed. For what it is, however, I am sure that it is quite good. 6 of 6 people found the following review helpful. Nothing else like it. By Dr. C. Esch I love these books and will keep buying them. 1914-1938 contains mostly 1:35 scale drawings with some 1:48 and one 1:72 (Char 2C) for large vehicles. I almost took a star away because this book, covering WWI through pre-WWII, contains a large number of duplicate drawings from his WWII books. Without counting and comparing, I'd guess 2/3 of the drawings have appeared in his other books. That said, this book is still worth every penny, even if you've bought all of Bradford's previous works.

George Bradford's latest collection of scale drawings of armored fighting vehicles focuses on the years from World War I to the eve of World War II, a period of fast-paced AFV development around the world. The volume is filled with detailed diagrams of more than 100 vehicles from Britain, Czechoslovakia, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Poland, Romania, the Soviet Union, and the United States, including: Whippet medium tank (Britain) Renault R35 light tank (France) Panzer I light tank (Germany) T-35 multiturreted tank (Soviet Union) T3 Christie tank (United States) And many more . . .

About the Author George Bradford is a technical artist and military historian who has been researching World War II and producing scale drawings for more than thirty years. He lives in Canada.
