From the Author "Throughout the years I've written about Toffee, my little "devil" dog as I liked to call her and she's made the cover of quite a few of my dog books. She is one dog who had the most photogenic smile that I have ever seen. She had it all, beauty, humor, love and the intelligence to match. As such, she knew how to pose a challenge and did so with ease every single day. I thought I was "trained" to handle mischievous dogs by my bad boy Buddy (in Finally Home), but Toffee not only learned from him but added her own creative flair. While some may call that a nuisance, to me it was my own little comedy act that we got to watch and enjoy daily. While her favorite pastime was eating, she also loved walking and absolutely LOVED dancing. One of her favorites was Madonna's greatest hits. And yes, I'm serious! After she passed away, I do as I always do and go through pictures and record precious memories, most of them on the blank screen of the computer. As I was doing this, I kept thinking of what I could do as a "Toffee Tribute." Some had suggested writing a book about her, and I won't completely dismiss that for the future, but I had already written a book about losing a pet when we lost Buddy. That book is called Final Journey: Buddys' Book and it describes the details of grief after losing a dog. For Toffee, however, I wanted something different. Since she was such a happy, fun, goofy and entertaining dog, I wanted something to reflect that. The idea came to me in an instant and I threw everything else aside and started on it right then. Keepsake Books for Dogs. And then, since Toffee loved all animals, I decided to add a Mementos book for cats as well! Think of it as the dog and cat equivalents of baby books of the human kind, except for cats and dogs. In addition, it's not just for puppies or kittens. This book is simply a means to record all memories of your pet, whether it is a baby, adult, senior or, has made their journey toward the rainbow bridge. Another great feature is that it's perfect for rescued animals as well! Thanks for reading! "Bringing awareness about dog adoption and rescue, one dog at a time!" I live in Las Vegas, NV with my husband and two retrievers. I had written my first book about dogs, Finally Home in the early part of 2010. Throughout my years of living with Buddy, our golden retriever, I always wanted to get his stories down on paper. They were just too comical to keep to myself. If you're reading this, then you might as well know, I am a die-hard dog lover and they are my inspiration for writing...especially dog books. I volunteer with a few animal rescue groups throughout Las Vegas when time permits. Though not all of my books are for dog-lovers, most do have a dog making an appearance now and then. I enjoy writing about their antics and incorporate them in a few of my thrillers. In addition, I donate a portion of the proceeds from the sale of each book to various animal rescue groups. Since 2010, I've written ten books consisting of five dog books, one inspirational book of quotes and four thrillers. You might also want to know that I am an indie author. Yep, I self-publish all of my books, create my own covers and format my own books. It has been a learning experience and after two years, I've learned more and more about the world of publishing. Even through the trial and error stage, it has been a fascinating experience. I've met a wonderful group of creative indie authors, as well as dog-lovers and readers in general from all over the world. The support, advice and wisdom I have received has been phenomenal. You may notice that I have a very dark mind and an equally off-beat and witty sense of humor. Sometimes you'll find it revealed in my books. Hope you enjoy them and many thanks for stopping by.
